

AMERICA TO PLAY ROLE IN WORLD OIL STRUGGLE

UNITED STATES MUST TAKE OIL FOR PAYMENTS

Believes America Will Not
Get Penny of War
Debts

DECKS ARE CLEARED

American Coup to Get
Support of This Government

Washington, April 17.—The international decks apparently are being cleared today for an oil struggle of worldwide importance at the second Lausanne conference next week, with America playing a leading role.

In the face of French and British protests against the Chester concession in Turkey, assurances were again forthcoming from official sources today that the American coup in the Near East is looked upon as a piece of legitimate business enterprise and as such will command the support of this government.

Washington, April 17.—Admiral Colby M. Chester, United States navy, retired, who obtained the oil and railway concessions just granted by the Turkish government, is of the opinion that America will not get a penny of war debts from any European nation, and must take oil instead. Oil must be had or the navy and automobiles in this country must be laid up, he said.

"If England or France wants to upset the oil concessions recently granted Americans by the Ankara assembly, they will have to fight for them," Chester declared. "Neither can afford to fight, or wants to fight. The Turkish oil situation will come up at the Lausanne conference next week, but the traditional exploiters will not be able to shake the Turko-American stand."

"Why should I attend the new conference at Lausanne?" queried Chester. "There is nothing to be gained. I and my associates have been granted the oil and railway concessions, and we feel just as safe to remain elsewhere. By no possible trick or threat can England or France upset the situation. They are powerless. All they can do is to protest."

"Winston Churchill fell as British foreign minister because of his blunders in fighting for oil. Another British cabinet fell the same way. Bonar Law was wise enough to stay out of Turkey, and I believe British public opinion will unhorse any ministry that tries to go back in."

"In 1920 Franklin Bouillon wrote a treaty for France and asked Mustafa Kemal to sign it. Pasha tore the treaty in half and threw the pieces away. This would have given France rights in the vast copper mines at Argona. All the treaties the French and the British have made have been torn up—notably the Sevres and San Remo instruments. They have not a leg left to stand upon. On the other hand the concessions granted the Ottoman-American Development company are unassailable."

Admiral Chester asserted that while he had no authority to speak for the state department, he would "stake his life" that it would back up the American interests to the limit in their fight for an entrance through the "open door." He continued: "We are in Turkey to stay. Great Britain and France would not let us through the front door, so we have affected an entrance through the rear. The door will stay open for all time. The world may as well become reconciled to giving up part of its oil."

VIOLENCE DENIED BY MINE WORKER

Columbus, April 17.—Acts of violence charged against Ohio mine workers during the last strike were denied by Lee Hall, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers, who said: "The report is not correct. On June 27, in Jefferson county, there was a controversy which resulted in the indictment of 13 men, five for manslaughter and eight for murder. Four of the men were tried and two convicted and two acquitted. The cases of all the rest were dismissed. The men are now free of charges except the two convicted, and we are planning to carry their cases to the court of appeals. The strike in Ohio was a peaceful one, and there were no charges against the men of our organization during the strike." Hall attributed the trouble in Jefferson county to men outside the organization.

SUNDAY MOVING PICTURE LAW UPHOLD

Columbus, O., April 17.—The Supreme Court today again upheld the constitutionality of the state law prohibiting Sunday motion pictures when it refused to hear the appeal of Walter K. Richards from the decision of the Hancock County courts prohibiting him from operating his motion picture theater in Findlay, on Sunday.

CANNOT RECALL SPARK OF LIFE BY USING DRUGS

Surgeons Say Methods In Use Are Not Sufficient.

Cleveland, O., April 17.—Only a miracle, the manifestation of supernatural power, can raise the dead to life. Drugs will not do it. Medical science, no matter how far it advances, can not recall life once it has departed from the human body.

This was the belief expressed by the prominent surgeons attending the first of a series of clinics held for 300 physicians of the Midwest section of the Post Graduate Medical fraternity.

The discussion was stimulated during the clinic held in the amphitheatre of Lakeside hospital. The clinic, consisting of five major surgical operations, was conducted by Dr. George W. Crile, professor of surgery at Western Reserve University here and exponent of the use of adrenalin, whose powerfully stimulating properties had been credited with restoring "life." Dr. Crile did not touch upon the use of adrenalin, due to the erroneous claims which had been credited to him, it was said. He kept it ready, however, for instant use in case any of the patients would have succumbed to the shock of the anesthetic.

"If it were possible to recall the spark of life through the injection of a drug into the heart of a corpse," Dr. C. E. Wilkinson, one of the surgeons declared, "the faith in a hereafter might validly be shattered. But medical science does not hope or claim to 'raise the dead'—it merely seeks to conserve life as long as it is humanly possible."

Dr. William B. Peck, director of the clinical society, expressed the belief that revivification cases reported since the announcement of Dr. Crile's method of adrenalin injections were probably mere "suspended animation" cases and not real deaths. "Death," he said, "is not the mere cessation of pulse—or heart beats. It is more likely when decomposition sets in. In many cases, no doubt, there is life in the body hours after a person is dead. Just when death sets in seems to be a matter of conjecture."

The same note of skepticism marked the use of "insulin," hailed recently as a "cure" for diabetes. This drug, an extract from the pancreas of unborn calves, was recently discovered by surgeons of Toronto, Canada.

Dr. Henry J. John, pioneer research worker in diabetes and one of the foremost authorities on the use of insulin, discussed the results he had obtained with it. "False hopes have been raised in persons afflicted with diabetes," he said, "by the too optimistic claims made for it. I have had some remarkable results with it, in incipient cases, and possible cures. Its use today, however, lies in permitting the patient undergoing treatment to eat heartily, instead of starving himself by dieting. Thus he is able to gain sufficient strength with which to offset the poison caused by the excess of sugar in the blood of the diabetic person."

The use of insulin is regarded as one of the foremost topics before the medical profession. Dr. E. P. Joslin will lecture on his experience with it at the Harvard university clinic.

GEORGE UPTON DEAD.

Warren, O., April 17.—George Upton of this city, husband of Mr. Harriet Taylor Upton, well known stage leader, died suddenly in Washington. Heart disease caused his death. Upton was nominated for the federal trade commission by President Harding, but his confirmation was prevented by opposition of Senator Pomerehne of Ohio.

AUTO DASHES INTO CROWD.

Pittsfield, Mass., April 17.—John Gasson, 32, and Miss Mildred Holt, 23, were killed and Mrs. John Gasson and Donald Reed, 18, seriously injured, when an automobile dashed into a group of persons waiting for a trolley car. Ford Miller, said to have been the driver of the car, is under arrest.

PENCE AND GARDNER BILLS VETOED

MAY INVESTIGATE NEW YORK POLICE

Richard Enright Louis A. Cuvillier

The sensational charges in the New York Assembly by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier of New York City, that Police Commissioner Richard Enright is involved in "bootlegging" and ought to be in prison will likely lead to a legislative investigation. The charges, stoutly denied by Enright, are said to be the culmination of various alleged acts of oppression on the part of members of the Police Department in connection with "dry" raids. Enright, a lieutenant of police, was appointed six years ago to the post of Police Commissioner by Mayor John F. Hyland. His friends assert there is no basis for the Cuvillier allegations.

New Dancing Record Set; Copeland Sounds Warning

Miss Madaline Gottschick, of Cleveland, Establishes
New Mark—Practice Dangerous to Health
Declares Physician

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
Former Health Commissioner for New York City

New York, April 17.—Long distance, non-stop dancers may emerge from their tests with the records of doubtful value, but they are running the risk of permanently impairing their health.

It is deadly stuff—this strain of 30 and even 65 hours on the heart, a delicate and most vital organ. The energy is exhausted and not renewed by rest, sleep or proper nourishment. The effects could not be other than disastrous.

It is a cruel and outrageous thing that the young people are permitted to hold such contests. Why you can kill a dog simply by keeping it awake and active for a day or two. The effects of two and three days of dancing may be almost as serious for the human system. A weak heart and disturbed circulation will invariably result from "marathon dancing" contests. In some instances the effect will be immediate. In others it may not appear for several years.

LIVING COSTS ARE HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO REPORT SHOWS

Building Materials and
Metals Also Higher
Than Before

Washington, April 17.—Prices for the necessities of life now average 12 per cent higher than a year ago, and are still on the upgrade, an increase of 1.4 per cent being noted in March over February, it was announced by the Labor Department today.

Building materials and metals again showed large increases in March over the preceding month, due to sharp advances in lumber, brick, paint, structural steel, iron pipe, nails, roofing tin, steel billets, copper, lead and zinc, the increase in these two groups averaging 3 and 7 per cent respectively. Smaller increases were recorded for the groups of farm products, foods, clothes and clothing, chemicals and drugs, house furnishings goods, and miscellaneous commodities. In the food group raw sugar averaged 18.2 per cent higher and granulated sugar 17.6 per cent higher in March than in February.

Comparing March prices with those in March, 1922, metals and metal products showed the largest increase, amounting to 36.3 per cent. Building materials followed next with an increase of 27.3 per cent. Cloths and clothing increased 16.3 per cent, farm products 10 per cent and miscellaneous commodities 8 1/2 per cent. Food articles, fuel and lighting chemicals and drugs and house furnishings showed smaller increases compared with prices a year ago.

COUZENS FOR FREIGHT RATE CUT

Washington, April 17.—Material reduction in transportation charges should follow announcement by the railroads that economies in operation have cut off $1,000,000,000 from expenditures, Senator Couzens of Michigan declared here. Couzens also took the railroads sharply to task for the condition of their equipment, declaring they have neither explained the "almost intolerable condition of transportation" nor given any assurance "of improved and efficient management."

Amesville, O., April 17.—Coroner Saunders found that Earl Parsons, 4, strangled to death in a bed at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Parsons, near here. The child became entangled in the covering of his bed.

RUM SMUGGLERS KILL DRY AGENT

New Orleans, La., April 17.—Three men suspected of being members of the rum running gang that shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Bollo Estopinal and August Esteve early today were rounded up by New Orleans police and sent to St. Bernard Parish this afternoon for identification.

New Orleans, La., April 17.—Deputy Sheriffs, B. C. Estopinal and August Esteve, prohibition agents of St. Bernard parish, south of this city, were killed early today in a gun battle with rum runners and high jackers. One of the runners is wounded. The other escaped.

The gun fight took place at Violet, La., nine miles below New Orleans, where the deputies captured two truck loads of liquor being brought to this city.

The St. Bernard officials trapped the rum runners on the bridge crossing the lake Barneal. The rum runners, heavily armed and outnumbering the officers, poured a rain of lead into the officers.

Both men were instantly killed. Col. Guy Maloney, chief of police and Captain Ray of New Orleans police department, and a large force with federal prohibition officers were summoned by St. Bernard parish officials, who were engaged in a man hunt for rum runners, under the leadership of District Attorney Philip R. Livaudais.

New Orleans police and federal prohibition agents have thrown a dragnet over the entire city for suspected rum runners. All hospitals are being watched for wounded.

DONATES MILLION DOLLARS TO USE FOR EDUCATION

Kentucky Mountaineers to Benefit by Huge
Gift

Cincinnati, April 17.—Announcement last night from Frankfort, Ky., that one million dollars and a tract of 16,000 acres of rich timber land had been donated toward the cause of education among Kentucky mountaineers was explained today by Fred W. Mowbray, one of the donors.

The endowment is made by E. O. Robinson, of Cincinnati, Fort Thomas, Ky., lumber manufacturer and capitalist, and the land represents the gift of the Robinson and Mowbray Company, Cincinnati.

The University of Kentucky at Lexington, is to administer the income from the fund and the land, and the establishment of mountain schools will be directed by the trustees of the university. The land is near Quicksand, Ky., and is valued at $150,000.

Mr. Robinson, whose gift of a million was his first introduction to a large portion of his fellow citizens residing in a modest home off the Alexandria pike, across the Ohio river from Cincinnati. He is 55 years old and came to the city from Summer, Illinois, 35 years ago. He is a former president of the National Hardware Manufacturers association and expert judge of timberland values.

flict is Now Declares
Churchman

Columbus, O., April 17.—"War has no place in a decent world. This world is an indecent world, and that is why there are wars," declared Rev. Dr. William Merrill, president of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches, addressing the International relations Conference of the Ohio Council of Churches. "The time to stop the next war is now. We must see that things are conducted so there can be no more wars." Rev. Dr. Merrill said.

Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, Brooklyn, a representative of the world alliance, and Bishop William Anderson, of the Cincinnati area of the M. E. church, also delivered addresses.

Representatives of virtually every county council of churches in Ohio are present at the two day conference here.

RAIL MEASURES ARE SCORED BY OHIO GOVERNOR

Proposals to Change Safety
Precautions and Engine
Inspection Hit.

SAYS BIG ERROR

Donahay Surrounded By
Expert Advisers is
Studying Legislation

Columbus, O., April 17.—Governor Donahay today announced that he has vetoed the bills by Senator Gardner, Hamilton County, amending sections of the general code dealing with safety precautions where tracks of two railroads cross at a common grade, and by Senator Pence, Highland County, relieving railroads of the duty of filing with the State Utilities Commission reports of inspections of locomotive boilers.

The Gardner bill which was opposed by numerous Ohioans, including members of labor organizations, it was stated, sought to authorize the utilities commission to determine whether it is necessary to maintain watchmen at all points where two railroads cross and where watchmen now are stationed.

According to Governor Donahay, a grievous error is made in the bill by permitting railroads to remove all watchmen pending decision by the commission as to whether the watchman are necessary, and transferring the burden to "the traveling public, railroad employees or the commission on its own initiative to institute proceedings determining that such protection is necessary."

"A bill covering this particular project, so drawn as to eliminate protection at no crossing after careful investigation, or applicable only to industrial tracks, or sidings might meet with executive approval," said the governor.

Explaining his veto of the Pence bill, Governor Donahay said it "weakens the existing locomotive boiler inspection law."

"Since these inspections will continue to be required by law and are made under rules and regulations issued by the commission, it appears manifestly proper that reports concerning the work done should be filed" continued the governor. "While it is true that the federal government, through the agency of the interstate commerce commission maintains a comprehensive system of locomotive boiler inspection, nevertheless so long as the state continues to require such inspections on its own account, the records thereof should be on file in order that the commission may verify compliance with its rules and regulations and opportunity afforded for the records to be examined by interested railway employees and the general public."

Governor Donahay has vetoed the bill by Senator Wise, of Stark County, providing for the establishment of a municipal court at Canton and one authorizing county surveyors to class as an emergency any road repair work costing less than $200. The governor's approving signature, late yesterday, was attached to measures which provide for amendment of the Ohio National Guard act, making it conform to the federal defense act, compelling corporations to prove they paid their personal property tax before being permitted to dissolve; permitting county commissioners to establish free ferries where bridges were destroyed by fire or flood, and the emergency act embodying many changes in the state ditch code.

The governor, surrounded by expert advisers, is studying the numerous legislative acts behind closed doors. He is refusing to see callers.

KLAN INTERFERENCE IN SOUTH FEARED

Tallahassee Fla., April 17.—Ku Klux Klan intervention to rectify Florida convict camp conditions was threatened in a letter received today from St. Louis. It purported to be an official communication from the Klan of that city, addressed to Judge T. J. Kneeshaw and G. Grimsen, special assistant attorney general of North Dakota, here to aid in the investigation of the death of Martin Tabort.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 17.—Sheriff J. R. Jones, of Leon County, testifying today before the joint legislative investigating committee admitted that he received $20 per prisoner for delivering them to the Putnam Lumber Company. He took them from Tallahassee, to Perry, a distance of 60 miles. He said he netted $15 on each convict leased to this company.

EVOLUTION THEORY SCORED BY SPEAKER AT CHURCH SERVICES

The largest crowds since the beginning of the special revival services at the Church of the Nazarene filled the church auditorium, at this morning, afternoon and evening services, Sunday.

The Rev. J. B. McBride took divine healing for his theme Sunday afternoon, telling of many remarkable cases, which had taken place in his meetings.

At the close of the service fifteen persons bowed at the altar for prayer, and were anointed for the healing of the body. Several testified that the Lord had healed them.

"Mountain Peaks of Human History," was the subject of the Rev. Mr. McBride's Sunday evening sermon. The evangelist showed from the Bible, the false teachings of evolution, and the danger of accepting it in place of the Bible record of the creation of Man. "Man did not come by any drawn-out process," declared the Rev. Mr. McBride. "Man was made in the image of God. The schools should teach the world of God in regard to the creation of man and not the theory of Evolution, which is of man and not God."

"Any school which takes away the Bible does away with our religious freedom. When High School professors try to teach the young people that man evolved from a monkey it is about time to get rid of them."

"Man is a wonderful being. God made him to rule the world, but he fell into sin. Man is a God with limitations. If man came from monkey then it is a case where the child named his father and called him a monkey."

Eight persons were received at the altar for prayer following the service. The Rev. Frank Watkins sang a solo, "The Old Story of Jesus."

The Rev. McBride will preach on "The Second Coming of Christ," Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

COMMITTS SUICIDE AS DEATH DENIED

New York, April 17.—Harold Van Alstine, vaudeville actor, hanged himself in a jail cell here because he had been denied death in the electric chair. He was to have been taken to Sing Sing prison this week to serve 20 years for the murder of Miss Marian McLaren, an actress. The shooting occurred in a cafe last January after she had sent back his engagement ring. When they became engaged Van Alstine neglected his own performances to follow the girl about the country. When his ring was returned he sought an explanation, and after waiting outside her theater followed her to the restaurant. As she was seated at the table he fired twice, one of the bullets piercing her heart. When he was arrested he expressed the wish that he be put to death at once.

DYNAMITED JAIL.

Warren, O., April 17.—Fred Hunter, 20, pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of dynamite and was sentenced to two years in the Ohio penitentiary. He was charged with being the ring-leader in dynamiting the Trumbull county jail two weeks ago in an attempt to escape.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OPENS

The National League baseball season opens Tuesday with the following teams pitted against each other.

St. Louis at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.

Junior League Starts Wednesday
By WONES.

Wednesday April 18 the American League will begin its twenty-third season of continuous existence. Five clubs in the league appear to have pennant possibilities. Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago will enter the race far better equipped than a year ago, while New York because of its pitching staff, must be regarded as a dangerous contender. The illness of George Sisler of the Browns may keep his team out of the race at the start.

Connie Mack with his Athletics will enter the race buoyed by a greater confidence than he has had in years. Washington's hope hinges on the development of a young crop of pitchers.

Manager Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers believes that his gang has a fine chance to cop the pennant but Cobb goes farther and says that the fight for the American league pennant this year will be between Detroit and New York with the Chicago White Sox as third dangerous contender.

President E. S. Byrnam of the Cleveland Indians thinks that his bunch will finish in the first division in the American league race this season and will be a factor in the race from the start due to the excellent training at Lakeland, Fla. camp.

Guisto at first in place of "Stuffy" McInnis. Wambogous at the keystone sack and Joe Sewell at short rounds out a great defensive and offensive infield. The regular pitching staff will be Uhle, Coveleskie, Sherrod, Smith, Sanders and Morton. Steve O'Neill and Myatt will divide the catching.

Greatly strengthened defensively, with added batting power and a promising young pitching staff, the Chicago White Sox give promise of being a dangerous contender for the 1923 pennant. The pitching staff is built around "Red" Faber, a veteran who made a great showing last season. Willie Kamm $100,000 star infielder from the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league is not only a great infielder but his hitting is hard and timely. He does everything easily and naturally. LESOURD MAKES VARSITY NINE

Bill LeSourd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, of this city, inaugurated his intercollegiate baseball career at Columbus Monday afternoon, when he performed in centerfield for Ohio Wesleyan. The Methodists lost to Ohio State 5 to 4 in a well-played season's opener.

Inability to connect with the offerings of Hoge Workman, who fanned seven out of 12 batters in the first four innings, gave Wesleyan a bad start. The Delaware tribe treated Al Howell more fiercely when he took up the O. S. U. hurling burden in the fifth stanza, "Mother" Hubbard clouting the agile for three bases and scoring on Bartholomew's error.

Wesleyan scored two more in the eighth, and one in the ninth. State scored once in the first and again in the fourth when Michaels hit one for the circuit. The Columbus nine scored another run in the sixth and two more in the seventh, ending the scoring of their side. State got but seven hits off Loomis and Mason while the Methodists connected safely eight times off the deliveries of H. Workman, Howell and Miller. Each team made four errors.

LeSourd batted second in the batting order, and although he was not credited with a safety in four trips, he made two put-outs and played errorless ball in the gardens. He is one of seven new men in the Wesleyan team, but two of last year's championship nine being available. He bats left handed. Baseball is the second sport in which LeSourd is making good at. For he played a stellar game on the Varsity basketball team during the season.

"Play Ball" is Heard Again
New York, April 17.—Lacking just two years of its golden anniversary, major league baseball will celebrate its forty seven years of existence today, with the official opening of the 1923 National league season.

Four cities, namely Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston and Brooklyn, will play host for the inaugural in a manner befitting the occasion, parades, flag raisings, and the conventional what not of opening day ceremonies being in order.

It will be baseball's 48th birthday, so to speak, and for the sake of effect, two official opening have been arranged. Eight American league clubs going into action tomorrow. A quarter of a million honest souls are expected to witness the dual ceremony. It was hardly so in 1876.

Those were the days of long hair and short breath and baseball was just a pastime, watched by hundreds, where thousands are now a handful. Much liquor has passed under the bridge of the nose since those misfit days, however.

For today's opening, the world's champ New York Giants are in Boston, appropriately enough, to collaborate with Matty's Braves in the season's inaugural. Across the bridge in the nether regions of Flatbush another ex-Giant, Arthur Fletcher will toss his Phillies at the Brooklyn Dodgers and on the banks of the American Rhine, the Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals will meet.

Something of an occasion will be made out of the Chicago Opening, where the new Cub park will be dedicated with the assistance of the Pittsburgh Pirates. This event anticipates the momentous opening of the new Yankee stadium, seating 65,000, by just twenty four hours.

MARKETING THEORY HELD AS SOLUTION

Columbus, O., April 17.—Pointing out that the spread between the farm price and the consumer price is too wide, Walton Petzet, director of co-operative marketing of the American Farm Bureau Federation said that this difference discourages the production on the one hand, and consumption on the other, in an address delivered here in conference with Ohio co-operative marketing leaders.

Co-operative marketing, according to Mr. Petzet, seeks to get away from the old "method of dumping" farm products on the market.

Agriculture alone, of all American industries, remain an individual production basis, and the time is here when we must move up to group distribution of farm products for the good of all concerned, Petzet asserted.

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH NOT UNLUCKY DAY FOR DYNAMITE USER

Some superstitious folks may claim that Friday, the Thirteenth, is the acme of bad luck days, but not so with Lewis C. McCoy of the Stevenson Road, who claims that signs, like dreams, go by opposites.

If last Friday, April 13, had lived up to its reputation as bad luck day for everybody, McCoy might have been contesting with the Wright Field aviators in the endurance and long distance flights.

Working with dynamite last Friday he accidentally dropped a box of dynamite caps onto 30 pounds of dynamite, and while he was collecting his belongings for a trip to the clouds, discovered that by some quirk of fate, the dynamite failed to live up to its reputation.

The box of dynamite caps slipped out of his hands and dropped from the height of 14 feet before striking the dynamite. The caps fell from the box scattering themselves as they went, and falling on rocks and against a cement foundation without exploding.

If one of the caps had exploded in the 30 pounds of dynamite—

SOLDIERS' STATE BOND BIG FACTOR IN FINANCE

Bonuses for soldiers have been considered or acted on in twenty-eight States. They are not so fashionable as they were two or three years ago. In that time the taxpayers have learned much. Many of the plans are held in abeyance for one reason or another, but three Middle Western States are about to issue bonds. Kansas is planning to offer $25,000,000 very soon. Iowa will receive bids for $22,000,000 next Monday. These, with Illinois' $55,000,000, make $102,000,000 of State bonds to be offered the public by May 1 or earlier.

The decision of the Illinois Supreme Court that the Soldiers' Bonus Law is constitutional injects into the financial scheme an extraordinary factor. Bonds to the amount of $55,000,000 must be issued and sold. With the proceeds soldiers will be paid. For some years the taxpayers—which means everybody—will have to pay the interest on these bonds and enough to provide a sinking fund against the final payment of the principal. Taxes, already at a figure that is a drag on business, will be higher. One set of citizens will provide money to be paid another set. The line that separates beneficiaries from their fellows cannot be drawn, because many of the former will pay as well as receive.

It is idle speculation to say what the benefits or the results will be. The certainty is that, whatever else happens, the debt and the taxes will remain.

When Demetra Vaka, a girl born of Greek parents in Constantinople, left her home for America twenty years ago, the women of Turkey were cloistered in the harem at home, the mere object subordinates of fathers or husbands, while abroad they were draped in the all-enveloping veil. When she returned, after marriage to an American dramatist, Kenneth Brown, she found radical changes, political, economic, and social. Years ago her first book, "Haremlik" was so entitled because it told of the secluded lives of Turkish women in the harems. Now she has put forth a second volume, entitled "The Unveiled Ladies of Stamboul" (Houghton Mifflin Company). The contrast between the titles tells the story of the changes wrought in twenty years.

Mrs. Brown returned to Constantinople in 1921, when the capital was in the hands of the Allies, and when the Greeks were still apparently destined to victory in Anatolia. The changes soon became apparent. First she saw the Greek colors displayed with the other Allied flags—a sight that gave her sorrow as well as happiness, since, while the Greeks had the right she thought they would have been more generous not to flaunt their success. Next, on the bridge of Galata, she saw a Turkish man, and, a little farther on, another Turkish woman, with face likewise exposed, talking to a man as they leaned against the railing of the bridge. The dogs, too, had disappeared; and for final evidence of a new world, the observer saw Turkish women, with uncovered faces, and clad in trousers, sweeping the streets.

A CHAPTER'S END?

Are the sands of Irish rebellion at last running out? Charles Burgess, Erskine Childers and Rory O'Connor are dead. When Childers, the real brains of the rebellion was executed Liam Lynch took his place.

And now Lynch has been shot to death in a running fight. Eamon de Valera is fleeing to some new hiding place and the women supporters of his rebellion and his few faithful lieutenants have been scattered.

Ten thousand "irregulars" are in Irish jails. Sixty-seven of their leaders have been executed. Lynch, the last first-class fighting man in the rebellion, is gone. De Valera no longer counts. The rebellion he has fostered seems to be burning itself out where it is not being smothered by the Free State. The archives of the Republican Government are in the pockets of De Valera; its headquarters are wherever he hangs up his hat. If he ever had any authority over his semi-bandit leaders and his wild guerrilla men, it has gone.

The Free State army has been strengthened and taught discipline. Dublin is quiet. Irish railways again are maintaining their schedules. Bridge burnings, ambushes and dynamitings grow fewer. There is more peace in South Ireland now than there has been in months.

The issue is not decided, but it does appear that the policy of executions, reluctantly and sorrowfully begun by the Cosgrave government, has justified itself. President Cosgrave came to a place where he had either to govern or go. If he went, the Free State would have gone with him, the Anglo-Irish pact would have become a scrap of paper and Ireland would have gone back again to where she has been at any time these 700 years.

If Cosgrave was to govern, the rebellion had to be put down. Executions and reprisals seemed the only way. If the fight of the Irish rebels has come to its final stage, only the enemies of Ireland will mourn over the news.

DANCING MARATHONS.

What do all these long-continued solo dances prove? What is the use of them? A California girl danced twenty-seven hours; a French woman went after her long-distance crown, and kept going for thirty-three hours. Then another American girl in New York exceeded that figure by three hours, and the California artist tried again, and regained her laurels with fifty hours of the "poetry of motion." The record of over 65 hours bids fair to be upset by other contestants.

There are championships in all sorts of queer and useless things. Some time ago it was soberly recorded that "the champion quail-eater of the United States" had sailed for Europe. In China there are competitions in threading needles behind one's back; and a young woman who won a tourney of the sort received thirteen proposals of marriage as the result. Perhaps to see who can dance longest is no sillier than the grind of a six-day bicycle race. But it seems a supremely fatuous employment. With so much of the world sadly in need of repair, why divert human energy to such futile exercises?

SENATOR BORAH WILL NOW EXPLAIN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HIS WORLD COURT AND HARDING'S WORLD COURT

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Prof. Adolph Lorenz, the discoverer of the system of bloodless surgery, arrived in New York this week and will go to Chicago to remove the plaster cast from his little patient, Lolita Armour. Mr. McGuire of Jamestown, will take his little daughter Leila, to Chicago to have her cast removed, following the operation by Dr. Lorenz.

General J. Warren Keifer, of Springfield, was appointed trustee of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, this week. What came very near being a serious accident occurred this morning at the new bridge which the Pan Handle is constructing above Detroit Street. A heavy iron girder was being lifted by the derrick when one of the guy ropes broke. One of the workmen came within a foot of being struck by the heavy derrick.

An affliction which is commonly known as "pink eye" is quite prevalent in Xenia and vicinity just now.

ANSWERED LETTERS

A Constant Reader:—These blisters on your hands and feet continue because they infect each other. Have the doctor prescribe for them. It is a simple matter to heal them very quickly when you have the proper treatment.

Marjorie Y.:—Neither henna, nor any other coloring, will affect the shade of the hair at the roots. Not even the strongest of dyes would do that. The hair will always grow out in its natural shade, but this process is so slow that it will take weeks before the difference in coloring will be noticed. Everybody who colors the hair knows this and touches it up at the roots from time to time. That is, everybody who makes a complete change in the color of the hair. If you are merely brightening the shade of using henna in the shampoo, this very act will be all that is needed, for the hair will hardly lose the tint before it is time to repeat the shampoo.

Discouraged:—A large bust is less noticeable if the corset is worn rather loose at the waist, and any corset will show you how to lace the corset to effect this change. Contrary to what you might expect, this looseness of the corset over the waistline really makes a stout woman appear to be much more slender than she is. Wear the new blouse in your new dresses as this style lends itself very well to the full bust.

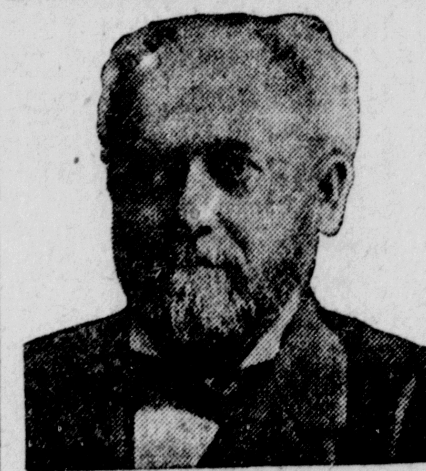

Carmen T.:—Clear these clogged pores by using plenty of cleansing cream at least once each day, and remove this with very warm water. Close the pores then by dashing very cold water over the skin or by giving it an ice rub.

E. H. M.:—As sage tea was used many years as a tonic as well as a coloring for the hair it could not have been harmful to the scalp. Powder the soles of the feet and it may absorb this excessive perspiration. If this does not stop the trouble, try a powder that is made astringent. Any druggist can make this for you.

A Constant Reader:—Massage in to the arms any flesh building cream.

THE GAZETTE And THE REPUBLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information," this paper.

HERKATEL—It was in London, before 1697, that certain districts were laid out to be recognized sanctuaries for offenders against the law, and within their precincts criminals were immune from arrest.

W. H. and D. V.—The word "isinglass" is derived from the Dutch "hyzenblas" which means an air-bladder. The connection came about because the isinglass is chiefly prepared from the bladder of the sturgeon.

FLORENCE—The use of the diamond by persons of noble rank is explained by Pliny. It was supposed to have been invented by Bacchus, and topers tied it tightly around their heads to protect themselves from the fumes of wine. Presumably, it was only the noblemen who needed such a precaution, for it became a symbol of royalty.

Cuticura Soap Baths Are Refreshing

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief. Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold. As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster.

Today's Talk

HIS ROMANCE

I received a very lovely letter from one of my dearest friends the other day.

And this was the first sentence: "My father, who has been my Romance, died February 13th."

I knew just how he felt—excepting in my case it was my Mother who was my Romance.

But a father—a Romance! Something very unusual though undeniably beautiful.

But why not? What is life without Romance?

I knew the father of my friend in a small way.

I can understand this Romance. Every once in a while a father comes into his own.

The boy in the Bible story who grew tired of home and wanted to get a taste of the action of the world away from parental influence, also came to the conclusion that a father held Romance, as well as love, in his heart.

And so he sought again that which he had a little while before rejected.

Who can look at the tender, wonderfully poignant picture of father and son in Forain's etching entitled "The Return of the Prodigal Son," without being thrilled by the Romance in the embrace of these two after so long a separation.

But the death of my friend's father did not end that beautiful Romance.

For years and years he will carry it on his heart.

As we do all the sweet Romances of our lives.

This isn't a very caring world. It doesn't go in for Romance any too much. Which is all the more reason why our lives should be touched with the beauty of Romance whenever it falls upon us.

IF YOU are not certain whether it is eye trouble or some other ailment that is the cause of your headache—then you should have your eyes examined and know their condition.

CEDARVILLE CHURCH SOCIAL HELD ON THURSDAY

Cedarville, April 17.—The congregation of the Reformed Presbyterian Church held a social Thursday evening in the church. The program consisted of music, a one act farce "Mr. and Mrs. Anybody and their family on Any Sunday Morning," also two sets of pictures which were flashed on the screen including "some real antiques" of some of the members of the congregation.

Give Old-Fashioned Social

The Epworth and Junior League of the Methodist Church gave an Old-Fashioned Social, Friday evening in the church parlors. Everyone attending was required to wear or carry something old-fashioned or else pay a fine. The Sabbath School Orchestra played a number of selections for an old fashioned "sing" in which everyone joined. The guests were then asked to find their partners for lunch by untagging the "Cobweb" which was strung overhead. The Juniors had one booth at which they sold home made candy and another fish-pond which added to the enjoyment of the evening. The final feature was a spelling match which created a great deal of interest. Miss Lulu Murphy was successful in spelling down the crowd and received a gift of home made candy.

COURT DECISION HAS GOOD EFFECT

Chicago, April 17.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court, which upheld the legality of the future trading act, will have a wholesome effect on the grain business. Senator Arthur Capper told International News Service today in a statement issued from his home in Topeka.

"Every wheat grower in the United States has been regularly victimized in recent years by bear raids, many squeezes and vicious short selling on a huge scale at the hands of big manipulators, who virtually control the Chicago board of trade and use unscrupulous methods to accomplish their ends," Senator Capper asserted.

"Gamblers who never hold a bushel of wheat, buy or sell paper promises in such a manner as to force wheat prices up or down."

"I believe this will now be impossible," he said. "However, legitimate future trading will not be disturbed. The entire business of the grain exchanges will now be under government supervision and vicious practices eliminated."

"The miller or elevator operator, who wants to hedge will have ample opportunity but entire business of the grain exchanges will now be under government supervision."

In the back the bodice is cut with a slight yoke, from which a fold of black reaches to the hem, caught only at the waist.

The same idea may be carried out with great success in crepe de chine and Georgette of the same color.

Sharp contrasts of black and white are a feature of some of the dresses imported this season, and the illustrated model is one of the best-looking examples of this mode. It is made of crepe de chine, the entire skirt pressed into fine pleats, with the black section lapping over somewhat on the white at the sides.

As the young lady in the sketch obligingly poses so we may see both the back and the front of her frock, you will observe that the white pleating is brought up into the bodice in front like the bib of an apron, and that a very attractive ornament made of mother-of-pearl, fastens the girdle—which is white in front, to leave the white unbroken.

In the back the bodice is cut with a slight yoke, from which a fold of black reaches to the hem, caught only at the waist.

The same idea may be carried out with great success in crepe de chine and Georgette of the same color.

FLYERS ESTABLISH NEW AIR RECORDS IN DAYTON FLIGHT

Dayton, April 17.—Flying continuously for more than 26 hours at an average of 71 miles an hour, Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelly, Tuesday at noon had covered 1800 miles and set three new long-distance records, in their attempt at an endurance record.

Lieut. Harold Harris, who took the air at 6:28 a. m. in an attempt to break records for 1,500 and 2,000 kilometers, had covered nineteen laps, or 558 miles at noon.

Engines of both the planes were working like the proverbial sewing machine, and ground men were elated at the outlook for shattering present endurance records and bringing every known flying record to the United States.

Air speed records for 1,500 and 2,000 kilometers were broken and a new 2,500 kilometer speed record was set, shortly after 7 a. m. by Lieutenants Macready and Kelly, piloting the monoplane T-2.

NEW MANUFACTURING PLANT MAY LOCATE HERE—MAKES PRESSES

A company to manufacture a new and improved type of printing press for commercial printing, composed of local interests and backed by local capital, will be an addition to Xenia's industrial life if efforts of C. R. Hinkle of Dayton, former Xenian, and a group of Xenia business men, are consummated.

Mr. Hinkle, with the aid of a number of Xenia men, who have become interested, is introducing a plan to subscribe $100,000 worth of stock locally to take over the holdings of The Omnigraph Company, of Des Moines, Iowa, to reorganize and incorporate under the laws of the State of Ohio, and move the plant and equipment to this city.

If the stock subscription is obtained within a 30-day option limit allowed Mr. Hinkle, the Des Moines Company which is seeking an eastern location to be nearer industrial centers and also nearer the press market, will take over the buildings of The Miami Cereal Company, formerly the Eavey Packing Company, Washington Street and begin the manufacture of the presses as soon as possible after moving the Des Moines machinery and supplementing it with new equipment.

Western stockholders in agreeing with the plan, will take stock in the new company instead of selling out their stock in the present organization. The new type press is the invention of E. E. Strawn, mechanical engineer, and former professor at Highland Park College, Des Moines, who holds patents dating as far back as 1913 and which have been appraised at great value by the State of Iowa. The press lays its claim to a destination of revolutionizing the commercial printing world to the fact that it will print any number of colors with perfect register and without blur at a much greater speed and simpler operation than the present method.

Backers of the movement say the Strawn press will print 45,000 copies with six more colors an hour, while modern presses will only print a maximum of 3,500 of one color, and the copies must be re-run through the press for each color added. The Strawn press is said to do the work of 40 of the present type presses. Prices of the press range from $11,000 to $75,000 and they are leased instead of sold, at this price plus 10 per cent of the business they handle. One of the presses has been in use at the Drury Printing Company plant, Fifth and Ludlow Streets, Dayton, since January 1.

A meeting of Xenia people interested in the movement will be held this week at which time Mr. Strawn will be present.

KIWANIS MEETING TO BE HELD IN MAY

S. M. McKay, president of the Kiwanis Club of Xenia will represent the local organization at the International Convention of Kiwanis in Atlanta, Georgia, May 23 to 31.

It is generally indicated that the Atlanta Convention will be the most largely attended in the history of Kiwanis.

The entertainment feature of the Atlanta Convention is being especially stressed in the invitation extended to Xenia Kiwanis, who are urged to see if "old fashioned Southern hospitality" still lives up to its reputation.

A water carnival on the lake of one of Atlanta's principal country clubs, a Southern fried chicken dinner "with the fixings" and a whole chicken for each of the thousands of visitors expected, and an elaborate musical revue, produced especially for the convention and called "Plantation Days" are among the features planned.

Kiwanis clubs from all over Georgia with several from surrounding states, will join the Atlantans as hosts. Headquarters have already been opened in Atlanta by Kiwanis International to look after the details of handling such a large gathering.

WRITES ON GOSSIPERS

Fred Kelly, magazine writer, is advancing. For the first time we find him in Harper's Magazine. He has a very good story on "Gossip as an Art of Barter."

He makes a distinct division between malicious gossips who retail scandal and the companionable gossip, who knows the funny side about all acquaintances. He eschews the former in toto, and calls the latter "the most companionable persons" he has ever known. It is a very readable article and its appearance in this high toned magazine is much to the writer's credit.

"Ear of Corn Teapot Holder: Materials are yellow Germanstown wool and green silk. Quite coarse steel knitting needles. Cast on 45 sts; and work with two yellow threads. Row 1: knit 5 sts, with one thread; take the other thread and draw it tightly across the back of the knitted stitches to produce a curved effect like a kernel of corn. Knit the next 5 sts with the second thread and draw them up with the first thread. Use these two threads alternately in this way across the row.

Row 2: Knit back, taking first the thread which was used in making the next to the last kernel. Knit as in preceding row, except that you must keep the thread on the wrong side of the work, which in this row is next to you. The secret of success in knitting this holder is the drawing of the threads to form the kernels. They must be drawn tightly and not allowed to slip. Knit back and forth till you have 25 rows of kernels, then instead of casting off take a yarn needle and draw the knitting threads through the stitches, pulling them up and tying tightly. Draw the other end together to correspond in shape.

"Finish by adding a tassel of green silk at one end and a crochet ornament at the other. Make this ornament as follows:

"Green Top to Ear of Corn: Pick up a loop through the end kernel, make three ch. and one double, very loose, in each of the remaining eight kernels. Three ch. 2 doubles be-

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

URGES OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY BEFORE AUXILIARY

A plea for the observance of Memorial Day was made by Omer Tate, before the members of the American Legion Auxiliary, at the meeting held at the legion rooms, Monday evening.

Memorial Day should be observed by the people of the nation, according to Mr. Tate, in reverence to the men, who gave their lives for America from the Revolution to the World War. Clearly bringing to mind the strenuous days of 1917-18, the blood shed on Flanders Fields, the rows of white crosses in rance, and the sadness that still prevails in the homes of Gold Star mothers, throughout the country, Mr. Tate endorsed the sale of poppies in connection with Memorial Day in a dignified and legitimate way, by ex-service men and women.

Mrs. William Frayer was elected chairman of the Executive Committee of the Auxiliary during the meeting. Mrs. Walter L. Dean, was chosen delegate to the District Conference to be held in May at Dayton, or Cincinnati. Mrs. W. E. Labron was chosen chairman of the rummage sale to be held by the auxiliary soon.

Mrs. Homer Spahr was selected chairman of the Committee of the Auxiliary for Memorial Day.

Dainty refreshments of brick ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the menu committee consisting of Mrs. Fred Baldwin, Mrs. William Frayer, and Miss Kathryn O'Dea.

ONE KILLED AND TEN WOUNDED IN IRELAND

Dublin, April 17.—One man was killed and ten others wounded in a clash between Free State troops and Republican irregulars at Castle Rosegreen today. A former state officer, named Sommers, was in command of the irregulars. They had taken shelter in the ancient castle and when Free State forces tried to dislodge them, a bomb was tossed from the casement. Seven Free State soldiers were wounded by the explosion.

BANS ENDURANCE DANCING.

Cleveland, April 17.—No more dancing marathons will be allowed to start in Cleveland. Charles V. Johnson, city dance hall inspector, announced he will not permit any more endurance dancing contests here.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y. — "I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter-box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives." — Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of nearly fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Englemann. You should give it a fair trial now.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS

Ann Peabody marries Dick Belden, a rancher. Ann is a New England girl, and a bit puritanical. She strives to be everything to Dick, but is hindered by Grace Edmonds, a cousin of Ned Prentice, their nearest neighbor. Grace had become a motion picture actress. Ann becomes jealous. Dick breaks his leg while with Grace, who insists upon nursing him. She also pretends to poison herself, saying it is because of Dick. Grace goes away, and Ann is again happy; but Grace's parents die in an accident and Grace returns. She tries to win little Jack; she criticizes Ann's clothes, her actions. She wins a bet, causing trouble. Dick's old habit of forgetfulness is emphasized. Grace embarrasses Ann by speaking of Hugh Norton's love for her. Dick wants Ann to get new clothes.

CHAPTER LXI

Ann's new dress was a success. She wore it first when she and Dick were alone.

"You look five years younger in it, Ann," Dick said as she turned around for him to examine it. "I guess clothes do make a lot of difference."

"They do, Dick; but I'd hate to think I had to keep your love just by the clothes I wore. It seems to me real love would go so much deeper than what one wore. Not that I don't like pretty things, stylish clothes, I do. But I love you just as well in overalls and a flannel shirt as I do when you are dressed up."

"A woman ought to dress to look her best," Dick parried. Ann at once recognized Grace in the set little speech.

"Her best, yes, according to her position in life and her work," Ann said quickly. "I shall have to keep this for really special occasions, it is so light, it will not quickly. But I wanted you to see it," she added wistfully.

"Wear it, Ann, and when it is soiled, get another," Dick replied. Ann was pleased that Dick had admired her dress yet she sighed as she changed it for one of her print frocks. It had meant days of hard work to make it. It was easy for Dick to say wear it and get another when it is soiled, but he didn't understand how difficult it was to make one's own clothes.

Grace, even Bessie, never did it. Grace ordered hers from a smart San Francisco modiste, while Bessie had hers made in San Bernardino. And Dick wanted her to look like them, especially like Grace.

Then, too the making of the dress had kept her in the house and given Grace an opportunity to be alone with Dick in the orchards. Ann fought her jealousy; declared over and over to herself that Dick loved her, that he was only flattered by Grace's liking for him, that he was true to her and little Jack.

But jealousy has a way of riding above and all around all logic. So it ate into Ann's very soul the while she tried to overcome it. It was strange that Bessie was also jealous. Ann reasoned, Grace almost neglected to notice Ned when Dick was about. She had no idea that when Dick was not available, Grace's tactics were transferred to Ned; that she was the sort to whom a man is a personal requisite and that missing one, the next available was attached in the same way. Ann, a one-man woman, could not conceive of this in a born flirt, and so felt that Bessie, even though Ned was known to be gay, was happier than she. Hers was a definite case, while Bessie had only to contend with Ned's ever-recurring infatuations, over as soon as a new face appeared.

Hugh Norton gave a party in his bachelor quarters. They were all excited over it, but he and Doctor Grayson refused all offers of help.

"This is one when you girls have nothing to do but enjoy yourselves," Hugh said when Ann and Bessie offered to help. "Doc and I have attended to everything. Look your prettiest and be happy."

Ann was glad her dress was finished. Dick would not need to be ashamed of her now. She dressed her hair carefully and when they were ready to start, she said:

"How do I look, Dick?"

"Fine, Ann! I never saw you look better. That dress surely does make you look smart."

"Mrs. Belden is lovely!" Nora declared. She had been helping Ann hook her dress. "She's the prettiest of all the women around here anywhere."

"Good for you, Nora! Shows you appreciate my good taste," Dick said jovially.

Nora was almost like one of the family now and neither Dick or Ann resented her free way of expressing her opinion. She was so really good, so trustworthy, so devoted to her interests that often they wondered how they had gotten along before she came.

"You sure had good taste when you picked Mrs. Belden," Nora replied. "What about her? Didn't she show good judgment in picking me?" Dick asked laughing.

"Men don't count so much. If they are good and kind, women always like them. But a woman has got to be most a saint, I know. I've worked for all sorts."

"You'll have a write a book of your experiences some day and make all our fortunes, Nora," Dick replied, teasing her.

"I could, all right! It wouldn't be nice reading for the men, tho," Nora replied, "most of 'em I have known ain't been half so nice as the women—not so fair."

Dick and Ann both laughed at Nora's earnestness, amused at her remarks. But afterward they returned to Ann. "Men not so fair! Women always like them if they are good and kind. But a woman has got to be most a saint."

Before they had been long at Hugh Norton's party Ann wondered if Nora hadn't made a mistake, if she hadn't meant a devil instead of a saint.

AMERICA TO PLAY ROLE IN WORLD OIL STRUGGLE

UNITED STATES MUST TAKE OIL FOR PAYMENTS

Believes America Will Not
Get Penny of War
Debts

DECKS ARE CLEARED

American Coup to Get
Support of This Government

Washington, April 17.—The international decks apparently are being cleared today for an oil struggle of worldwide importance at the second Lausanne conference next week, with America playing a leading role.

In the face of French and British protests against the Chester concession in Turkey, assurances were again forthcoming from official sources today that the American coup in the Near East is looked upon as a piece of legitimate business enterprise and as such will command the support of this government.

Washington, April 17.—Admiral Colby M. Chester, United States navy, retired, who obtained the oil and railway concessions just granted by the Turkish government, is of the opinion that America will not get a penny of war debts from any European nation, and must take oil instead. Oil must be had or the navy and automobiles in this country must be laid up, he said. "If England or France wants to upset the oil concessions recently granted Americans by the Ankara assembly, they will have to fight for them," Chester declared. "Neither can afford to fight, or wants to fight. The Turkish oil situation will come up at the Lausanne conference next week, but the traditional exploiters will not be able to shake the Turko-American stand."

"Why should I attend the new conference at Lausanne?" queried Chester. "There is nothing to be gained. I and my associates have been granted the oil and railway concessions, and we feel just as safe to remain elsewhere. By no possible trick or threat can England or France upset the situation. They are powerless. All they can do is to protest."

"Winston Churchill fell as British foreign minister because of his blunders in fighting for oil. Another British cabinet fell the same way. Bonar Law was wise enough to stay out of Turkey, and I believe British public opinion will unhorse any ministry that tries to go back in."

"In 1920 Franklin Bonillon wrote a treaty for France and asked Mustafa Kemal to sign it. Pasha tore the treaty in half and threw the pieces away. This would have given French rights in the vast copper mines at Argona. All the treaties the French and the British have made have been torn up—notably the Sevres and San Remo instruments. They have not a leg left to stand upon. On the other hand the concessions granted the Ottoman-American Development company are unassailable."

Admiral Chester asserted that while he had no authority to speak for the state department, he would "stake his life" that it would back up the American interests to the limit in their fight for an entrance through the "open door." He continued: "We are in Turkey to stay. Great Britain and France would not let us through the front door, so we have affected an entrance through the rear. The world will stay open for all time. The world may as well become reconciled to giving up part of its oil."

VIOLENCE DENIED BY MINE WORKER

Columbus, April 17.—Acts of violence charged against Ohio mine workers during the last strike were denied by Lee Hall, president of the Ohio United Mine Workers, who said: "The report is not correct. On June 27, in Jefferson county, there was a controversy which resulted in the indictment of 13 men, five for manslaughter and eight for murder. Four of the men were tried and two convicted and two acquitted. The cases of all the rest were dismissed. The men are now free of charges except the two convicted, and we are planning to carry their cases to the court of appeals. The strike in Ohio was a peaceful one, and there were no charges against the men of our organization during the strike." Hall attributed the trouble in Jefferson county to men outside the organization.

SUNDAY MOVING PICTURE LAW UPHOLD

Columbus, O., April 17.—The Supreme Court today again upheld the constitutionality of the state law prohibiting Sunday motion pictures when it refused to hear the appeal of Walter K. Richards from the decision of the Hancock County courts prohibiting him from operating his motion picture theater in Findlay, on Sunday.

CANNOT RECALL SPARK OF LIFE BY USING DRUGS

Surgeons Say Methods In Use Are Not Sufficient.

Cleveland, O., April 17.—Only a miracle, the manifestation of supernatural power, can raise the dead to life. Drugs will not do it. Medical science, no matter how far it advances, can not recall life once it has departed from the human body.

This was the belief expressed by the prominent surgeons attending the first of a series of clinics held for 300 physicians of the Midwest section of the Post Graduate Medical fraternity. The discussion was stimulated during the clinic held in the amphitheatre of Lakeside hospital. The clinic, consisting of five major surgical operations, was conducted by Dr. George W. Crile, professor of surgery at Western Reserve University here and exponent of the use of adrenalin, whose powerfully stimulating properties had been credited with restoring "life." Dr. Crile did not touch upon the use of adrenalin, due to the erroneous claims which had been credited to him, it was said. He kept it ready, however, for instant use in case any of the patients would have succumbed to the shock of the anesthetic.

"If it were possible to recall the spark of life through the injection of a drug into the heart of a corpse," Dr. C. E. Wilkinson, one of the surgeons declared, "the faith in a hereafter might validly be shattered. But medical science does not hope or claim to 'raise the dead'—it merely seeks to conserve life as long as it is humanly possible."

Dr. William B. Peck, director of the clinical society, expressed the belief that revivification cases reported since the announcement of Dr. Crile's method of adrenalin injections were probably mere "suspended animation" cases and not real deaths. "Death," he said, "is not the mere cessation of pulse—or heart beats. It is more likely when decomposition sets in. In many cases, no doubt, there is life in the body hours after a person is dead. Just when death sets in seems to be a matter of conjecture."

The same note of skepticism marked the use of "insulin," hailed recently as a "cure" for diabetes. This drug, an extract from the pancreas of unborn calves, was recently discovered by surgeons of Toronto, Canada. Dr. Henry J. John, pioneer research worker in diabetes and one of the foremost authorities on the use of insulin, discussed the results he had obtained with it. "False hopes have been raised in persons afflicted with diabetes," he said, "by the too optimistic claims made for it. I have had some remarkable results with it, in incipient cases, and possible cures. Its use today, however, lies in permitting the patient undergoing treatment to eat heartily, instead of starving himself by dieting. Thus he is able to gain sufficient strength with which to offset the poison caused by the excess of sugar in the blood of the diabetic person."

The use of insulin is regarded as one of the foremost topics before the medical profession. Dr. E. P. Joslin will lecture on his experience with it at the Harvard university clinic.

GEORGE UPTON DEAD.

Warren, O., April 17.—George W. Upton of this city, husband of Mr. Harriet Taylor Upton, well known surgeon leader, died suddenly in Washington. Heart disease caused his death. Upton was nominated for the federal trade commission by President Harding, but his confirmation was prevented by opposition of Senator Pomerehne of Ohio.

AUTO DASHES INTO CROWD.

Pittsfield, Mass., April 17.—John Gasson, 32, and Miss Mildred Holt, 23, were killed and Mrs. John Gasson and Donald Reed, 18, seriously injured, when an automobile dashed into a group of persons waiting for a trolley car. Ford Miller, said to have been the driver of the car, is under arrest.

PENCE AND GARDNER BILLS VETOED

MAY INVESTIGATE NEW YORK POLICE

Richard Enright Louis A. Cuvillier

The sensational charges in the New York Assembly by Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier of New York City, that Police Commissioner Richard Enright is involved in "bootleg grafting" and ought to be in prison will likely lead to a legislative investigation. The charges, stoutly denied by Enright, are said to be the culmination of various alleged acts of oppression on the part of members of the Police Department in connection with "dry" raids. Enright, a lieutenant of police, was appointed six years ago to the post of Police Commissioner by Mayor John F. Hylan. His friends assert there is no basis for the Cuvillier allegations.

New Dancing Record Set; Copeland Sounds Warning

Miss Madaline Gottschick, of Cleveland, Establishes
New Mark—Practice Dangerous to Health
Declares Physician

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
Former Health Commissioner for New York City
New York, April 17.—Long distance, non-stop dancers may emerge from their tests with the records of doubtful value, but they are running the risk of permanently impairing their health.

It is deadly stuff—this strain of 30 and even 65 hours on the heart, a delicate and most vital organ. The energy is exhausted and not renewed by rest, sleep or proper nourishment. The effects could not be other than disastrous.

It is a cruel and outrageous thing that the young people are permitted to hold such contests. Why you can kill a dog simply by keeping it awake and active for a day or two. The effects of two and three days of dancing may be almost as serious for the human system. A weak heart and disturbed circulation will invariably result from "marathon dancing" contests. In some instances the effect will be immediate. In others it may not appear for several years.

LIVING COSTS ARE HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO REPORT SHOWS

Building Materials and
Metals Also Higher
Than Before

Washington, April 17.—Prices for the necessities of life now average 12 per cent higher than a year ago, and are still on the upgrade, an increase of 1 1/4 per cent being noted in March over February, it was announced by the Labor Department today.

Building materials and metals again showed large increases in March over the preceding month, due to sharp advances in lumber, brick, paint, structural steel, iron pipe, nails, roofing tin, steel billets, copper, lead and zinc, the increase in these two groups averaging 3 and 7 per cent respectively. Smaller increases were recorded for the groups of farm products, foods, clothes and clothing, chemicals and drugs, house furnishings goods, and miscellaneous commodities. In the food group raw sugar averaged 18.2 per cent higher and granulated sugar 17.6 per cent higher in March than in February.

Comparing March prices with those in March, 1922, metals and metal products showed the largest increase, amounting to 36 3/4 per cent. Building materials followed next with an increase of 27 3/4 per cent. Cloths and clothing increased 16 3/4 per cent, farm products 10 per cent and miscellaneous commodities 8 1/2 per cent. Food articles, fuel and lighting chemicals and drugs and house furnishings showed smaller increases compared with prices a year ago.

COUZENS FOR FREIGHT RATE CUT

Washington, April 17.—Material reduction in transportation charges should follow announcement by the railroads that economies in operation have cut off $1,000,000,000 from expenditures, Senator Couzens of Michigan declared here. Couzens also took the railroads sharply to task for the condition of their equipment, declaring they have neither explained the "almost intolerable condition of transportation" nor given any assurance "of improved and efficient management."

RUM SMUGGLERS KILL DRY AGENT

New Orleans, La., April 17.—Three men suspected of being members of the rum running gang that shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Bollo Estopinal and August Esteve early today were rounded up by New Orleans police and sent to St. Bernard Parish this afternoon for identification.

New Orleans, La., April 17.—Deputy Sheriffs B. C. Estopinal and August Esteve, prohibition agents of St. Bernard parish, south of this city, were killed early today in a gun battle with rum runners and high jackers. One of the runners is wounded. The other escaped.

The gun fight took place at Violet, La., nine miles below New Orleans, where the deputies captured two truck loads of liquor being brought to this city.

The St. Bernard officials trapped the rum runners on the bridge crossing the lake Barneal. The rum runners, heavily armed and outnumbering the officers, poured a rain of lead into the officers.

Both men were instantly killed. Col. Guy Maloney, chief of police and Captain Ray of New Orleans police department, and a large force with federal prohibition officers were summoned by St. Bernard parish officials, who were engaged in a man hunt for rum runners, under the leadership of District Attorney Philip R. Livaudais.

New Orleans police and federal prohibition agents have thrown a dragnet over the entire city for suspected rum runners. All hospitals are being watched for wounded.

DONATES MILLION DOLLARS TO USE FOR EDUCATION

Kentucky Mountaineers to Benefit by Huge
Gift

Cincinnati, April 17.—Announcement last night from Frankfort, Ky., that one million dollars and a tract of 16,000 acres of rich timber land had been donated toward the cause of education among Kentucky mountaineers was explained today by Fred W. Mowbray, one of the donors.

The endowment is made by E. O. Robinson, of Cincinnati, Fort Thomas, Ky., lumber manufacturer and capitalist, and the land represents the gift of the Robinson and Mowbray Company, Cincinnati.

The University of Kentucky at Lexington, is to administer the income from the fund and the land, and the establishment of mountain schools will be directed by the trustees of the university. The land is near Quicksand, Ky., and is valued at $150,000.

Mr. Robinson, whose gift of a million was his first introduction to a large portion of his fellow citizens residing in a modest home off the Alexandria pike, across the Ohio river from Cincinnati. He is 55 years old and came to the city from Sumner, Illinois, 35 years ago. He is a former president of the National Hardware Manufacturers association and expert judge of timberland values.

flict is Now Declares

Dr. William Merrill, president of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches, addressing the International relations Conference of the Ohio Council of Churches. "The time to stop the next war is now. We must see that things are conducted so there can be no more wars," Rev. Dr. Merrill said.

Representatives of virtually every county council of churches in Ohio are present at the two day conference here.

RAIL MEASURES ARE SCORED BY OHIO GOVERNOR

Proposals to Change Safety
Precautions and Engine
Inspection Hit.

SAYS BIG ERROR

Donahey Surrounded By
Expert Advisers is
Studying Legislation

Columbus, O., April 17.—Governor Donahey today announced that he has vetoed the bills by Senator Gardner, Hamilton County, amending sections of the general code dealing with safety precautions where tracks of two railroad cross at a common grade, and by Senator Pence, Highland County, relieving railroads of the duty of filling with the State Utilities Commission reports of inspections of locomotive boilers.

The Gardner bill which was opposed by numerous Ohioans, including members of labor organizations, it was stated, sought to authorize the utilities commission to determine whether it is necessary to maintain watchmen at all points where two railroads cross and where watchmen now are stationed.

According to Governor Donahey, a grievous error is made in the bill by permitting railroads to remove all watchmen pending decision by the commission as to whether the watchman are necessary, and transferring the burden to "the traveling public, railroad employees or the commission on its own initiative to institute proceedings determining that such protection is necessary."

A bill covering this particular project, so drawn as to eliminate protection at no crossing after careful investigation, or applicable only to industrial tracks, or sidings might meet with executive approval," said the governor.

Explaining his veto of the Pence bill, Governor Donahey said it "weakens the existing locomotive boiler inspection law."

"Since these inspections will continue to be required by law and are made under rules and regulations issued by the commission, it appears manifestly proper that reports covering the work done should be filed" continued the governor. "While it is true that the federal government, through the agency of the interstate commerce commission maintains a comprehensive system of locomotive boiler inspection, nevertheless so long as the state continues to require such inspections on its own account, the records thereof should be on file in order that the commission may verify compliance with its rules and regulations and opportunity afforded for the records to be examined by interested railway employees and the general public."

Governor Donahey has vetoed the bill by Senator Wise, of Stark County, providing for the establishment of a municipal court at Canton and one authorizing county surveyors to class as an emergency any road repair work costing less than $200. The governor's approving signature, late yesterday, was attached to measures which provide for amendment of the Ohio National Guard act, making it conform to the federal defense act, compelling corporations prove they paid their personal property tax before being permitted to dissolve; permitting county commissioners to establish free ferries where bridges were destroyed by fire or flood, and the emergency act embodying many changes in the state ditch code.

The governor, surrounded by expert advisers, is studying the numerous legislative acts behind closed doors. He is refusing to see callers.

KLAN INTERFERENCE IN SOUTH FEARED

Tallahassee Fla., April 17.—Ku Klux Klan interference to rectify Florida convict camp conditions was threatened in a letter received today from St. Louis. It purported to be an official communication from the Klan of that city, addressed to Judge T. J. K. Shaw and G. Grimes, special assistant attorney general of North Dakota, to aid in the investigation of the death of Martin Tabort.

Tallahassee, Fla., April 17.—Sheriff J. R. Jones, of Leon County, testifying today before the joint legislative investigating committee admitted that he received $20 per prisoner for delivering them to the Putnam Lumber Company. He took them from Tallahassee, to Perry, a distance of 60 miles. He said he netted $15 on each convict leased to this company.

Newport, Ky., April 17.—Safeblowers early this morning obtained $1,000 at the bottling plant of the Hiland Dairy Company this city. The bandits used newspapers and magazines to deaden the sound of the blast.

EVOLUTION THEORY SCORED BY SPEAKER AT CHURCH SERVICES

The largest crowds since the beginning of the special revival services at the Church of the Nazarenes filled the church auditorium, at the morning, afternoon and evening services, Sunday.

The Rev. J. D. McBride took divine healing for his theme Sunday afternoon, telling of many remarkable cases, which had taken place in his meetings.

At the close of the service fifteen persons bowed in the altar for prayer, and were anointed for the healing of the body. Several testified that the Lord had healed them.

"Mountain Peaks of Human History," was the subject of the Rev. Mr. McBride's Sunday evening sermon. The evangelist showed from the Bible, the false teachings of evolution, and the danger of accepting it in place of the Bible record of the creation of Man. "Man did not come by any drawn-out process," declared the Rev. Mr. McBride. "Man was made in the image of God. The schools should teach the World of God in regard to the creation of man and not the theory of Evolution, which is of man and not God."

"Any school which takes away the Bible does away with our religious freedom. When High School professors try to teach the young people that man evolved from a monkey it is about time to get rid of them."

"Man is a wonderful being. God made him to rule the world, but he fell into sin. Man is a God with limitations. If man came from monkey then it is a case where the child named his father and called him a monkey."

Eight persons were received at the altar for prayer following the service. The Rev. Frank Watkins sang a solo, "The Old Story of Jesus."

The Rev. McBride will preach on "The Second Coming of Christ," Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

COMMITTS SUICIDE AS DEATH DENIED

New York, April 17.—Harold Van Alstine, vaudeville actor, hanged himself in a jail cell here because he had been denied death in the electric chair. He was to have been taken to Sing Sing prison this week to serve 20 years for the murder of Miss Marian MacLaren, an actress. The shooting occurred in a cafe last January after she had sent back his engagement ring. When they became engaged Van Alstine neglected his own performances to follow the girl about the country. When his ring was returned he sought an explanation, and after waiting outside her theater followed her to the restaurant. As she was seated at the table he fired twice, one of the bullets piercing her heart. When he was arrested he expressed the wish that he be put to death at once.

DYNAMITED JAIL.

Warren, O., April 17.—Fred Hunter, 26, pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of dynamite and was sentenced to two years in the Ohio penitentiary. He was charged with being the ring-leader in dynamiting the Trumbull county jail two weeks ago in an attempt to escape.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OPEN; AMERICAN STARTS WEDNESDAY
FANS MAY GET SCORES BY TICKER SERVICE

NATIONAL LEAGUE OPENS

The National League baseball season opens Tuesday with the following teams pitted against each other.

St. Louis at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
New York at Boston.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.

Junior League Starts Wednesday
By WONES.

Wednesday April 18 the American League will begin its twenty-third season of continuous existence. Five clubs in the league appear to have pennant possibilities. Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago will enter the race far better equipped than a year ago, while New York because of its pitching staff, must be regarded as a dangerous contender. The illness of George Sisler of the Browns may keep his team out of the race at the start.

Connie Mack with his Athletics will enter the race buoyed by a greater confidence than he has had in years. Washington's hope hinges on the development of a young crop of pitchers.

Manager Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers believes that his gang has a fine chance to cop the pennant but Cobb goes farther and says that the fight for the American league pennant this year will be between Detroit and New York with the Chicago White Sox as third dangerous contender.

President E. S. Barnard of the Cleveland Indians thinks that his bunch will finish in the first division in the American league race this season and will be a factor in the race from the start due to the excellent training at Lakeland, Fla. camp.

Guisto at first in place of "Stuffy" McInnis, Wambogous at the keystone sack and Joe Sewell at short rounds out a great defensive and offensive infield. The regular pitching staff will be Uhle, Coveleskie, Sherrod, Smith, Sanders and Morton. Steve O'Neill and Myatt will divide the catching.

Greatly strengthened defensively, with added batting power and a promising young pitching staff, the Chicago White Sox give promise of being a dangerous contender for the 1923 pennant. The pitching staff is built around "Red" Faber, a veteran who made a great showing last season. Willie Kamm $100,000 star infielder from the San Francisco club of the Pacific coast league is not only a great infielder but his hitting is hard and timely. He does everything easily and naturally. No false move.

LESOURD MAKES VARSITY NINE

Bill LeSourd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. LeSourd, of this city, inaugurated his intercollegiate baseball career at Columbus Monday afternoon, when he performed in centerfield for Ohio Wesleyan. The Methodists lost to Ohio State 5 to 4 in a well-played season's opener.

Inability to connect with the offerings of Hoge Workman, who fanned seven out of 12 batters in the first four innings, gave Wesleyan a bad start. The Delaware tribe treated Al Howell more fiercely when he took up the O. S. U. hurling burden in the fifth stanza, "Mother" Hubbard clouting the agate for three bases and scoring on Bartholomew's error.

Wesleyan scored two more in the eighth, and one in the ninth. State scored once in the first and again in the fourth when Michaels hit one for the circuit. The Columbus nine scored another run in the sixth and two more in the seventh, ending the scoring of their side. State got but seven hits off Loomis and Mason while the Methodists connected safely eight times off the deliveries of H. Workman, Howell and Miller. Each team made four errors.

LeSourd batted second in the batting order, and although he was not credited with a safety in four trips,

he made two put-outs and played errorless ball in the gardens. He is one of seven new men in the Wesleyan team, but two of last year's championship nine being available. He bats left handed. (Baseball is the second sport in which LeSourd is making good at Wesleyan in his sophomore year, for he played a stellar game on the varsity basketball team during the season.)

"Play Ball" Is Heard Again

New York, April 17.—Lacking just two years of its golden anniversary, major league baseball will celebrate its forty seventh year of existence to day, with the official opening of the 1923 National league season.

Four cities, namely Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston and Brooklyn, will play host for the inaugural in a manner befitting the occasion, parades, flag raisings, and the conventional what not of opening day ceremonies being in order.

It will be baseball's 48th birthday, so to speak, and for the sake of effect, or merely to forsake the beaten path, two official opening have been arranged. Eight American league clubs going into action tomorrow. A quarter of a million honest souls are expected to witness the dual ceremony. It was hardly so in 1876.

Those were the days of long hair and short breath and baseball was just a pastime, watched by hundreds, where thousands are now a handful. Much liquor has passed under the bridge of the nose since those misty days, however.

For today's opening, the worlds champ New York Giants are in Boston, appropriately enough, to collaborate with Matty's Braves in the season's inaugural. Across the bridge in the ether regions of Flatbush another ex-Giant, Arthur Fletcher will toss his Phillies at the Brooklyn Dodgers and on the banks of the American Rhine, the Cincinnati Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals will meet.

Something of an occasion will be made out of the Chicago opening, where the new Cub park will be dedicated with the assistance of the Pittsburgh Pirates. This event anticipates the momentous opening of the new Yankee stadium, seating 65,000, by just twenty four hours.

"Cause and effect" is Nature's law —

It controls life—science is based on it—no one can escape it.

Many people find that coffee and tea, both of which contain the drug, caffeine, are often a cause of nervousness, headache and loss of sleep.

There are many, too, who have found that the easy and sure way to avoid coffee and tea troubles is to drink delicious Postum as the meal-time beverage.

Try Postum in place of coffee or tea. It is pure, healthful and has a delightful full-bodied flavor.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

MARKETING THEORY HELD AS SOLUTION

Columbus, O., April 17.—Pointing out that the spread between the farm price and the consumer price is too wide, Walton Petet, director of co-operative marketing of the American Farm Bureau Federation said that this difference discourages the production on the one hand, and consumption on the other, in an address delivered here in conference with Ohio co-operative marketing leaders.

Co-operative marketing, according to Mr. Petet, seeks to get away from the old "method of dumping" farm products on the market.

Agriculture alone, of all American industries, remain an individual production basis, and the time is here when we must move up to group distribution of farm products for the good of all concerned, Petet asserted.

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH NOT UNLUCKY DAY FOR DYNAMITE USER

Some superstitious folks may claim that Friday, the Thirteenth, is the acme of bad luck days but not so with Lewis C. McCoy of the Stevenson Road, who claims that signs, like dreams, go by opposites.

If last Friday, April 13, had lived up to its reputation as bad luck day for everybody, McCoy might have been contesting with the Wright field aviators in the endurance and long distance flights.

Working with dynamite last Friday he accidentally dropped a box of dynamite caps onto 30 pounds of dynamite, and while he was collecting his belongings for a trip to the clouds, discovered that by some quirk of Fate, the dynamite failed to live up to its reputation.

The box of dynamite caps slipped out of his hands and dropped from the height of 14 feet before striking the dynamite. The caps fell from the box scattering themselves as they went, and falling on rocks and against a cement foundation without exploding.

If one of the caps had exploded in the 30 pounds of dynamite—

SOLDIERS' STATE BONUS BONDS BIG FACTOR IN FINANCE

Bonuses for soldiers have been considered or acted on in twenty-eight States. They are not so fashionable as they were two or three years ago. In that time the taxpayers have learned much. Many of the plans are held in abeyance for one reason or another, but three Middle Western States are about to issue bonds. Kansas is planning to offer $25,000,000 very soon. Iowa will receive bids for $22,000,000 next Monday. These, with Illinois' $55,000,000, make $102,000,000 of State bonds to be offered the public by May 1 or earlier.

The decision of the Illinois Supreme Court that the Soldiers' Bonus Law is constitutional injects into the financial scheme an extraordinary factor. Bonds to the amount of $55,000,000 must be issued and sold. With the proceeds soldiers will be paid. For some years the taxpayers—which means everybody—will have to pay the interest on these bonds and enough to provide a sinking fund against the final payment of the principal. Taxes, already at a figure that is a drag on business, will be higher. One set of citizens will provide money to be paid another set. The line that separates beneficiaries from their fellows cannot be drawn, because many of the former will pay as well as receive.

It is idle speculation to say what the benefits or the results will be. The certainty is that, whatever else happens, the debt and the taxes will remain.

When Demetra Vaka, a girl born of Greek parents in Constantinople, left her home for America twenty years ago, the women of Turkey were cloistered in the harem, at home, the mere object subordinates of fathers or husbands, while abroad they were draped in the all-enveloping veil. When she returned, after marriage to an American dramatist, Kenneth Brown, she found radical changes, political, economic, and social. Years ago her first book, "Haremlik" was so entitled because it told of the secluded lives of Turkish women in the harems. Now she has put forth a second volume, entitled "The Unveiled Ladies of Stamboul" (Houghton Mifflin Company). The contrast between the titles tells the story of the changes wrought in twenty years.

Mrs. Brown returned to Constantinople in 1921, when the capital was in the hands of the Allies, and when the Greeks were still apparently destined to victory in Anatolia. The changes soon became apparent. First she saw the Greek colors displayed with the other Allied flags—a sight that gave her sorrow as well as happiness, since, while the Greeks had the right she thought they would have been more generous not to flaunt their success. Next, on the bridge of Galata, she saw a Turkish man, and, a little farther on, another Turkish woman, with face likewise exposed, talking to a man as they leaned against the railing of the bridge. The dogs, too, had disappeared; and for final evidence of a new world, the observer saw Turkish women, with uncovered faces, and clad in trousers, sweeping the streets.

A CHAPTER'S END?

Are the sands of Irish rebellion at last running out? Charles Burgess, Erskine Childers and Rory O'Connor are dead. When Childers, the real brains of the rebellion was executed Liam Lynch took his place.

And now Lynch has been shot to death in a running fight. Eamon de Valera is fleeing to some new hiding place and the women supporters of his rebellion and his few faithful lieutenants have been scattered.

Ten thousand "irregulars" are in Irish jails. Sixty-seven of their leaders have been executed. Lynch, the last first-class fighting man in the rebellion, is gone.

De Valera no longer counts. The rebellion he has fostered seems to be burning itself out where it is not being smothered by the Free State. The archives of the Republican Government are in the pockets of De Valera; its headquarters are wherever he hangs up his hat. If he ever had any authority over his semi-bandit leaders and his wild guerrilla men, it has gone.

The Free State army has been strengthened and taught discipline. Dublin is quiet. Irish railways again are maintaining their schedules. Bridge burnings, ambushes and dynamitings grow fewer. There is more peace in South Ireland now than there has been in months.

The issue is not decided, but it does appear that the policy of executions, reluctantly and sorrowfully begun by the Cosgrave government, has justified itself. President Cosgrave came to a place where he had either to govern or go. If he went, the Free State would have gone with him, the Anglo-Irish pact would have become a scrap of paper and Ireland would have gone back again to where she has been at any time these 700 years.

If Cosgrave was to govern, the rebellion had to be put down. Executions and reprisals seemed the only way. If the fight of the Irish rebels has come to its final stage, only the enemies of Ireland will mourn over the news.

DANCING MARATHONS.

What do all these long-continued solo dances prove? What is the use of them? A California girl danced twenty-seven hours; a French woman went after her long-distance crown, and kept going for thirty-three hours. Then another American girl in New York exceeded that figure by three hours, and the California artist tried again, and regained her laurels with fifty hours of the "poetry of motion." The record of over 65 hours bids fair to be upset by other contestants.

There are championships in all sorts of queer and useless things. Some time ago it was soberly recorded that "the champion quail-eater of the United States" had sailed for Europe. In China there are competitions in threading needles behind one's back; and a young woman who won a tourney of the sort received thirteen proposals of marriage as the result. Perhaps to see who can dance longest is no sillier than the grind of a six-day bicycle race. But it seems a supremely fatuous employment. With so much of the world sadly in need of repair, why divert human energy to such futile exercises?

SENATOR BORAH WILL NOW EXPLAIN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HIS WORLD COURT AND HARDING'S WORLD COURT

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Prof. Adolph Lorenz, the discoverer of the system of bloodless surgery, arrived in New York this week and will go to Chicago to remove the plaster cast from his little patient, Lolita Armour. Mr. McGuire of Jamestown, will take his little daughter Leila, to Chicago to have her cast removed, following the operation by Dr. Lorenz.

General J. Warren Keifer, of Springfield, was appointed trustee of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, this week. What came very near being a serious accident occurred this morning at the new Bridge which the Pan Handle is constructing above Detroit Street. A heavy iron girder was being lifted by the derrick when one of the guy ropes broke. One of the workmen came within a foot of being struck by the heavy derrick.

An affliction which is commonly known as "pink eye" is quite prevalent in Xenia and vicinity just now.

ANSWERED LETTERS

A Constant Reader:—These blisters on your hands and feet continue because they infect each other. Have the doctor prescribe for them. It is a simple matter to heal them very quickly when you have the proper treatment.

Marjorie Y.:—Neither henna, nor any other coloring, will affect the shade of the hair at the roots. Not even the strongest of dyes would do that. The hair will always grow out in its natural shade, but this process is so slow that it will take weeks before the difference in coloring will be noticed. Everybody who colors the hair knows this and touches it up at the roots from time to time. That is, everybody who makes a complete change in the color of the hair. If you are merely brightening the shade of using henna in the shampoo, this very act will be all that is needed, for the hair will hardly lose the tint before it is time to repeat the shampoo.

Discouraged:—A large bust is less noticeable if the corset is worn rather loose at the waist, and any corsetier will show you how to lace the corset to effect this change. Contrary to what you might expect, this looseness of the corset over the waistline really makes a stout woman appear to be much more slender than she is. Wear the new blouse in your new dresses as this style lends itself very well to the full bust.

Carmen T.:—Clear these clogged pores by using plenty of cleansing cream at least once each day, and remove this with very warm water. Close the pores then by dashing very cold water over the skin or by giving it an ice rub.

E. H. M.:—As sage tea was used many years as a tonic as well as a coloring for the hair it could not have been harmful to the scalp. Powder the soles of the feet and it may absorb this excessive perspiration. If this does not stop the trouble, try a powder that is made astringent. Any druggist can make this for you.

A Constant Reader:—Massage in to the arms any flesh building cream.

STOPS COUGH AND WHEEZY BREATHING

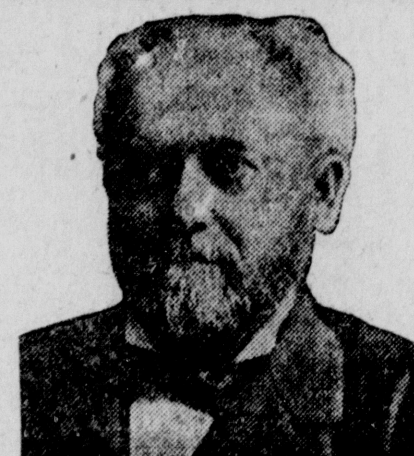

"Had a cough and wheezing in my throat," writes Caroline Dillard, Petersburg, Va. "Foley's Honey and Tar gave me quick relief and stopped my cough." Coughs resulting from Flu, Grippe, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Bronchitis, quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. to fatten them, and take the exercises that develop grace, such as those used in swinging the Indian clubs.

Beauty P.:—Any enamel that is painted on the nails will cause them to become brittle. The best polish is that wrought by buffing the nails. Buffing will give also the pinkish tint that you want, since it improves the circulation under the nails.

R. B.:—A simple exercise that will reduce the thighs, hips and stomach is the one of bending at the waistline and then swinging the upper part of the body in a circular movement, first to the right and then to the left. In each case try to describe a circle coming back to the original position.

Ruth S.:—These whiteheads are treated almost the same as if they were blackheads. The only difference lies in the softening and clearing out the soil in the pore. Massage with the finger tips using a good cream or a healing oil and end the treatment by contracting the pores. Tomorrow—Rejuvenating the Neck

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up a ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid. Send 10c for trial pkg.

THE GAZETTE And THE REPUBLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information," this paper.

HERKATEL—It was in London, before 1697, that certain districts were laid out to be recognized sanctuaries for offenders against the law, and within their precincts criminals were immune from arrest.

W. H. and D. V.—The word "isinglass" is derived from the Dutch "hyzenblas" which means an air bladder. The connection came about because the isinglass is chiefly prepared from the bladder of the sturgeon.

FLORENCE—The use of the diadem by persons of noble rank is explained by Pliny. It was supposed to have been invented by Bacchus, and topars tied it tightly around their heads to protect themselves from the fumes of wine. Presumably, it was only the noblemen who needed such a precaution, for it became a symbol of royalty.

Cuticura Soap Baths Are Refreshing

Cleanse and freshen your skin by bathing daily with Cuticura Soap. If there are any signs of pimples, redness or roughness follow with a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal. Dust with Cuticura Talcum; it perfumes as well as powders your skin. Sample each free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 110, Malden, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c, Ointment 25c and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

HIS ROMANCE

I received a very lovely letter from one of my dearest friends the other day.

And this was the first sentence: "My father, who has been my Romance, died February 13th."

I knew just how he felt—excepting in my case it was my Mother who was my Romance.

But a father—a Romance! Something very unusual though undeniably beautiful.

But why not? What is life without Romance? I knew the father of my friend in a small way.

I can understand this Romance. Every once in a while a father comes into his own.

The boy in the Bible story who grew tired of home and wanted to get a taste of the action of the world away from parental influence, also came to the conclusion that a father held Romance, as well as love, in his heart.

And so he sought again that which he had a little while before rejected.

Who can look at the tender, wonderfully poignant picture of father and son in Foran's etching entitled "The Return of the Prodigal Son," without being thrilled by the Romance in the embrace of these two after so long a separation.

But the death of my friend's father did not end that beautiful Romance.

For years and years he will carry it on his heart.

As we do all the sweet Romances of our lives.

This isn't a very caring world. It doesn't go in for Romance any too much. Which is all the more reason why our lives should be touched with the beauty of Romance whenever it falls upon us.

IF YOU are not certain whether it is eye trouble or some other ailment that is the cause of your headache—then you should have your eyes examined and know their condition.

That is all we do—examine eyes and make glasses when needed—but we do it right. May we have the pleasure of serving you?

Everyone attending was required to wear or carry something old-fashioned or else pay a fine. The Sabbath School Orchestra played a number of selections for an old fashioned "sing" in which everyone joined. The guests were then asked to find their partners for lunch by untangling the "Cobweb" which was strung overhead. The Juniors had one booth at which they sold home made candy and another fish-pond which added to the enjoyment of the evening. The final feature was a spelling match which created a great deal of interest. Miss Lulu Murphy was successful in spelling down the crowd and received a gift of home made candy.

COURT DECISION HAS GOOD EFFECT

Chicago, April 17.—The decision of the United States Supreme Court, which upheld the legality of the future trading act, will have a whole-some effect on the grain business. Senator Arthur Capper told International News Service today in a statement issued from his home in Topeka.

FLYERS ESTABLISH NEW AIR RECORDS IN DAYTON FLIGHT

Dayton, April 17.—Flying continuously for more than 26 hours at an average of 71 miles an hour, Lieutenants John A. Macready and Oakley G. Kelly, Tuesday at noon had covered 1800 miles and set three new long-distance records, in their attempt at an endurance record.

Lieut. Harold Harris, who took the air at 6:28 a. m. in an attempt to break records for 1,500 and 2,000 kilometers, had covered nineteen laps, or 558 miles at noon.

Engines of both the planes were working like the proverbial sewing machine, and ground men were elated at the outlook for shattering present endurance records and bringing every known flying record to the United States.

Air speed records for 1,500 and 2,000 kilometers were broken and a new 2,500 kilometer speed record was set, shortly after 7 a. m. by Lieutenants Macready and Kelly, piloting the monoplane T-2.

When the huge plane passed over the official timing station at Wilbur Wright field for the fiftieth time, it had averaged 71.86 miles an hour and had traveled 2,500 kilometers, or 1,562 1/2 miles.

The speed record for 1,500 kilometers was broken during the early hours of the morning when the ship flew around the 31 1-8 mile course for the thirty-ninth time at an average speed of 73 miles an hour. The former speed record for the same distance was held by a French aviator who averaged 62 miles an hour on a 1,500 kilometer course.

The 2,000 kilometer speed record was made at an average speed of 72 1/2 miles an hour.

COURT NEWS

Damage Case Set Down. The $25,000 damage suit of Mrs. Mary Matthews, administratrix of the estate of Elvas Matthews, against Louis Vandervoort, has been set down for trial in Common Pleas Court May 2.

The suit is based on the death of Matthews, a former Xenia policeman at the hands of a gun welder while walking his beat here last December. Although Vandervoort has never been convicted of the crime, the plaintiff will attempt to prove that he did the slaying in proving her contention that he is liable for damages in the sum asked because of his death.

Vandervoort is at present at the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus serving a sentence for the death of Policeman Emory McCreight, of the Wilmington Department a year ago last February. Attorneys for the plaintiff, C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson, will attempt to have Vandervoort brought here during the trial.

L. T. Marshall, Xenia attorney, has been appointed guardian ad litem for Vandervoort, who is a minor, in Common Pleas Court, and the court, on motion of the defendant, has also quashed the service of summons in the case.

Do You Remember

Some Reminiscences of Xenia's Past

When Charley McCoy painted a picture of a furnace on the Scott tin shop, which was located next door to the present Gazette building, and the painting was so realistic it caught fire and burned off?

When Marshall Field, Chicago merchant prince, was interested in the cordage industry in Xenia, under the name of the Field Cordage Company?

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mento-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mento-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

NEW MANUFACTURING PLANT MAY LOCATE HERE—MAKES PRESSES

A company to manufacture a new and improved type of printing press for commercial printing, composed of local interests and backed by local capital, will be an addition to Xenia's industrial life if efforts of C. R. Hinkle of Dayton, former Xenian, and a group of Xenia business men, are consummated.

Mr. Hinkle, with the aid of a number of Xenia men, who have become interested, is introducing a plan to subscribe $100,000 worth of stock locally to take over the holdings of The Omnigraph Company, of Des Moines, Iowa, to reorganize and incorporate under the laws of the State of Ohio, and move the plant and equipment to this city.

If the stock subscription is obtained within a 30-day option limit allowed Mr. Hinkle, the Des Moines Company which is seeking an eastern location to be nearer industrial centers and also nearer the press market, will take over the buildings of The Miami Cereal Company, formerly the Eavey Packing Company, Washington Street and begin the manufacture of the presses as soon as possible after moving the Des Moines machinery and supplementing it with new equipment.

Western stockholders, in agreeing with the plan, will take stock in the new company instead of selling their stock in the present organization. The new type press is the invention of E. B. Strawn, mechanical engineer, and former professor at Highland Park College, Des Moines, who holds patents dating as far back as 1913 and which have been appraised at great value by the State of Iowa. The press lays its claim to a destination of revolutionizing the commercial printing world to the fact that it will print any number of colors with perfect register and without blur at a much greater speed and simpler operation than the present method.

Backers of the movement say the Strawn press will print 45,000 copies with six more colors an hour, while modern presses will print a maximum of 3,500 of one color, and the copies must be re-run through the press for each color added. The Strawn press is said to do the work of 80 of the present type presses. Prices of the press range from $11,000 to $75,000 and they are leased instead of sold, at this price plus 10 per cent of the business they handle. One of the presses has been in use at the Drury Printing Company plant Fifth and Ludlow Streets, Dayton, since January 1.

A meeting of Xenia people interested in the movement will be held this week at which time Mr. Strawn will be present.

KIWANIS MEETING TO BE HELD IN MAY

S. M. McKay, president of the Kiwanis Club of Xenia will represent the local organization at the International Convention of Kiwanis in Atlanta, Georgia, May 23 to 31.

It is generally indicated that the Atlanta Convention will be the most largely attended in the history of Kiwanis.

The entertainment feature of the Atlanta Convention is being especially stressed in the invitation extended to Xenia Kiwanis, who are urged to see if "old fashioned Southern hospitality" still lives up to its reputation.

A water carnival on the lake of one of Atlanta's principal country clubs, a Southern fried chicken dinner "with the fixings" and a whole chicken for each of the thousands of visitors expected, and an elaborate musical revue, produced especially for the convention and called "Plantation Days" are among the features planned.

Kiwanis clubs from all over Georgia with several from surrounding states, will join the Atlantans as hosts.

Headquarters have already been opened in Atlanta by Kiwanis International to look after the details of handling such a large gathering.

WRITES ON GOSSIPERS

Fred Kelly, magazine writer, is advancing. For the first time we find him in Harper's Magazine. He has a very good story on "Gossip as an Art of Barter."

He makes a distinct division between malicious gossip who retail scandal and the companionable gossip, who knows the funny side about all acquaintances. He eschews the former in toto, and calls the latter "the most companionable persons" he has ever known. It is a very readable article and its appearance in this high toned magazine is much to the writer's credit.

Still another Reader Friend has kindly sent me her teapot holder directions to publish here:

"Ear of Corn Teapot Holder: Materials are yellow Germantown wool and green silk. Quite coarse steel knitting needles. Cast on 45 sts, and work with two yellow threads. Row 1: knit 5 sts, with one thread; take the other thread and draw it tightly across the back of the knitted stitches to produce a curved effect like a kernel of corn. Knit the next 5 sts with the second thread and draw them up with the first thread. Use these two threads alternately in this way across the row.

Row 2: Knit back, taking first thread which was used in making the next to the last kernel. Knit as in preceding row, except that you must keep the thread on the wrong side of the work, which in this row is next to you. The secret of success in knitting this holder is the drawing of the threads to form the kernels. They must be drawn tightly and not allowed to slip. Knit back and forth till you have 25 rows of kernels, then instead of casting off take a yarn needle and draw the knitting threads through the stitches, pulling them up and tying tightly. Draw the other end together to correspond in shape.

"Finish by adding a tassel of green silk at one end and a crochet ornament at the other. Make this ornament as follows:

"Green Top to Ear of Corn: Pick up a loop through the end kernel, make three ch, and one double, very loose, in each of the remaining eight kernels. Three ch. 2 doubles be-

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

URGES OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY BEFORE AUXILIARY

A plea for the observance of Memorial Day was made by Omer Tate, before the members of the American Legion Auxiliary, at the meeting held at the legion rooms, Monday evening.

Memorial Day should be observed by the people of the nation, according to Mr. Tate, in reverence to the men, who gave their lives for America from the Revolution to the World War. Clearly bringing to mind the strenuous days of 1917-18, the blood shed on Flanders Fields, the rows of white crosses in rance, and the sadness that still prevails in the homes of Gold Star mothers, throughout the country. Mr. Tate endorsed the sale of poppies in connection with Memorial Day in a dignified and legitimate way, by ex-service men and women.

Mrs. William Fraver was elected chairman of the Executive Committee of the Auxiliary during the meeting. Mrs. Walter L. Dean, was chosen delegate to the District Conference to be held in May at Dayton, or Cincinnati. Mrs. W. E. Labron was chosen chairman of the rummage sale to be held by the auxiliary soon.

Mrs. Homer Spahr was selected chairman of the Committee of the Auxiliary for Memorial Day.

Dainty refreshments of brick ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the menu committee consisting of Mrs. Fred. Baldwin, Mrs. William Fraver, and Miss Kathryn O'Dea.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter-box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of nearly fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Englemann. You should give it a fair trial now.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS

Ann Peabody marries Dick Belden, a rancher. Ann is a New England girl, and a bit puritanical. She strives to be everything to Dick, but is hindered by Grace Edmonds, a cousin of Ned Prentice, their nearest neighbor. Grace had become a motion picture actress, Ann becomes jealous. Dick breaks his leg while with Grace, who insists upon nursing him. She also pretends to poison herself, saying it is because of Dick. Grace goes away, and Ann is again happy; but Grace's parents die in an accident and Grace returns. She tries to win little Jack; she criticizes Ann's clothes, her actions. She wins a bet causing trouble. Dick's old habit of forgetfulness is emphasized. Grace embarrasses Ann by speaking of Hugh Norton's love for her. Dick wants Ann to get new clothes.

CHAPTER LXI

Ann's new dress was a success. She wore it first when she and Dick were alone.

"You look five years younger in it, Ann," Dick said as she turned around for him to examine it. "I guess clothes do make a lot of difference."

"They do, Dick; but I'd hate to think I had to keep your love just by the clothes I wore. It seems to me real love would go so much deeper than what one wore. Not that I don't like pretty things, stylish clothes, I do. But I love you just as well in overalls and a flannel shirt as I do when you are dressed up."

"A woman ought to dress to look her best," Dick parried. Ann at once recognized Grace in the set little speech.

"Her best, yes, according to her position in life and her work," Ann said quickly. "I shall have to keep this for really special occasions, it is so light, it will not quickly. But I wanted you to see it," she added wistfully.

"Wear it, Ann, and when it is soiled, get another," Dick replied. "Ann was pleased that Dick had admired her dress yet she sighed as she changed it for one of her print frocks. It had meant days of hard work to make it. It was easy for Dick to say wear it and get another when it is soiled, but he didn't understand how difficult it was to make one's own clothes."

Grace, even Bessie, never did it. Grace ordered hers from a smart San Francisco modiste, while Bessie had hers made in San Bernardino. And Dick wanted her to look like them, especially like Grace.

Then, too the making of the dress had kept her in the house and given Grace an opportunity to be alone with Dick in the orchards. Ann fought her jealousy; declared over and over to herself that Dick loved her, that he was only flattered by Grace's liking for him, that he was true to her and little Jack.

But jealousy has a way of riding above and all around all logic. So it ate into Ann's very soul the while she tried to overcome it. It was strange that Bessie was also jealous. Ann reasoned, Grace almost neglected to notice Ned when Dick was about. She had no idea that when Dick was not available, Grace's tactics were transferred to Ned; that she was the sort to whom a man is a personal requisite and that missing one, the next available was attached in the same way. Ann, a one-man woman, could not conceive of this in a born flirt, and so felt that Bessie, even though Ned was known to be gay; was happier than she. Hers was a definite case, while Bessie had only to contend with Ned's ever-recurring infatuations, over as soon as a new face appeared.

Hugh Norton gave a party in his bachelor quarters. They were all excited over it, but he and Doctor Grayson refused all offers of help.

"This is one when you girls have nothing to do but enjoy yourselves," Hugh said when Ann and Bessie offered to help. "Doc and I have attended to everything. Look your prettiest and be happy."

Ann was glad her dress was finished. Dick would not need to be ashamed of her now. She dressed her hair carefully and when they were ready to start, she said:

"How do I look, Dick?"

"Fine, Ann! I never saw you look better. That dress surely does make you look smart."

"Mrs. Belden is lovely!" Nora declared. She had been helping Ann hook her dress. "She's the prettiest of all the women around here anywhere."

"Good for you, Nora! Shows you appreciate my good taste," Dick said jocularly.

Nora was almost like one of the family now and neither Dick or Ann resented her free way of expressing her opinion. She was so really good, so trustworthy, so devoted to her interests that often they wondered how they had gotten along before she came.

"You sure had good taste when you picked Mrs. Belden," Nora replied. "What about her? Didn't she show good judgment in picking me?" Dick asked laughing.

"Men don't count so much. If they are good and kind, women always like them. But a woman has got to be most a saint, I know. I've worked for all sorts."

"You'll have a write a book of your experiences some day and make all our fortunes, Nora," Dick replied, teasing her.

"I could, all right! It wouldn't be nice reading for the men, tho," Nora replied. "Most of 'em I have known ain't been half so nice as the women—not so fair."

Dick and Ann both laughed at Nora's earnestness, amused at her remarks. But afterward they returned to Ann. "Men not so fair! Women always like them if they are good and kind. But a woman has got to be most a saint."

Before they had been long at Hugh Norton's party Ann wondered if Nora hadn't made a mistake, if she hadn't meant a devil instead of a saint.
